TRUCE HELD PRELUDE TO IRISH PEACE

Madison Aldermen Denounce the Yellow Cab Line

ASK POLICE TO ACT ON TAXIPROBLEM

Members of Council in Heated Session Demand That Rights of Citizens Shall be Protected

Incensed by the actions of drivers of the Yellow Cab line, the members of the common council went on the warpath at the meeting last night, charging the company with usurping rights of individual citizens.

The council went further and unanimously passed a resolution introduced by Ald. J. A. Rupp directing Chief of Police Shaughnessy to inform the manager of the Yellow Cab Co. that privately owned automobiles have the right to stop at the platform in front of the Northwestern station to discharge and take on passengers, and in the future are not to be "bumped" from their parking place by the Yellow cabs. The resolution was amended by Ald. G. H. Mason to include all taxi lines, but it was said that the Yellow cab line is the only offender.

The council members waxed warm in their denunciation of the taxi company, and charges of other irregularities which involved the members of the police department, as well as the cab drivers, were flung in open defiance from the council floor. Charges that the police department is not taking the proper attitude toward the enforcing of city ordinances and that a request for police aid brings the reply "go to grass," were made by Ald. E. F. Gibbs, R. F. Elver and G. H. Mason.

Ald. A. B. Groves declared it was time the police department took the taxi drivers in hand and arrest them for speeding.

"While we have this subject before us, I would like to say something about the rate at which these taxi drivers are traveling," said Ald. Groves. "There seems to be no regulation of speed for them, but an individual is snatched up and taken to court and fined if he dares go over eight miles an hour."

"That's up to our police department," Mayor Kittleson informed the alderman from the first ward.

"If you say anything to the police, they will tell you to 'go to grass,'" Ald. Gibbs interrupted.

"I think it is high time that we give our police department a jar," Ald. Elver declared.

"Right you are!" Ald. Mason said.

The whole matter arose when Ald. Rupp asked to have his resolution passed. He declared that he had been the victim of insults by the Yellow taxi drivers, and that one night when he came to the station to take on a passenger, he was ordered away from the platform by a cab man. He said he would have arrested the man himself had he had his police star with him. As it was he called the police station, he said. The reply was: "Swear out a warrant, we've got nothing to do with that." The representative from the ninth said he thought it was high time that the department was fulfilling its duties in this city, and that if the present officers wouldn't do it, it was time to get others that would.

"It seems peculiar to me that everytime we want a visit from a police officer, we've got to take the time to swear out a warrant for an arrest before we get a response," said Ald. Rupp.

Ald. J. H. Brown said he "knew what was coming," when the Yellow Taxi Cab Co. came to Madison. He said it is no different here than in other cities where they do business. He advised unearthing the whole matter of regulation of taxi cabs and giving it a thorough going over.

City Atty. William Ryan informed the council that the mayor and chief of police shall designate stands for the respective taxi cabs at the Northwestern station. The other stations are governed by the railroad companies. He pointed out that the taxi companies were rated as a public service and as such were given privileges at the station. Ald. Brown urged that the taxi lines be put on the old "Squad leader" basis and park their cars on the opposite side of the street, permitting their callers to drum up business from the platform, and making the station side of the street open to the private cars.

SHE BLEW IN FIVE MILLIONS IN JUST 3 WEEKS IN PARIS

Mrs. Smith Wilkinson in the new zebra gown which almost stopped the races at Auteuil. The buttons down the front are set with diamonds of great price.

LONDON—Mrs. Smith Wilkinson, stout and elderly heroine of the most prodigious spending campaign by a woman that Paris—or maybe the world—ever saw, is making preparations for an assault on American society at the summer's end. In Paris she claims she spent $5,000,000 in three weeks.

At present the "Female Monte Cristo" is understood to be negotiating for one of the finest yachts afloat. Then for weeks shipwrights will be busy knocking out bulkheads, installing an elaborate dressmaking establishment and providing accommodations for the fifty models who will make the voyage with the astonishing Mrs. Smith Wilkinson.

Agents of Mrs. Smith Wilkinson are in New York on the lookout for something in Fifth avenue "fit to live in." No matter how fine the residence obtained, lots of modern improvements will be installed. The plumbing will have to be done over by Tiffany, for Mrs. Smith Wilkinson, who hasn't eaten for years from plates not studded with precious stones, carries her elegance into the bathroom. In her home in Nottingham she has two tubs of gold, and she's bound to have the same little comforts provided in New York.

Mrs. Smith Wilkinson will be accompanied by her 24-year-old husband, Edward Henry Smith Wilkinson. Her second was a youngster, too. The first was the founder of England's first "temperance hotel." That laid the foundation of a fortune that now, Mrs. SmithWilkinson says, yields more millions a year than she can spend.

COUNCIL ACTS ON POLLUTION

Mayor to Name Committee to Probe Monona Trouble

The problem of the alleged pollution of Lake Monona was revived by the council last night when it passed a resolution by W. F. Mautz asking the mayor to appoint a committe of five to investigate, with a view to determining, first, whether there actually is a pollution, and second, what is the cause. The committee will be comprised mostly of citizens not in the council and will act without compensation or cost to the city.

The extension of the city bathing pier at The Willows, Lake Mendota drive, was provided for and an appropriation of $200 passed to hire a life guard. Raymond A. Stehr was suggested for the position. An arc light will be placed on the pier during the bathing season.

REAL ESTATE LAW UPHELD BY STEVENS

Judge Gives a Decision Holding That Law Is Not Discriminatory; May Take Appeal

Constitutionality of the law creating the Wisconesin Real Estate Brokers board was upheld by Judge E. Ray Stevens in the Dane county circuit court this morning.

The opinion stated that the law allowed due process of law and was not discriminatory.

Attorneys for Richard Lehman, Milwaukee real estate dealer, who brought suit against the board created by the 1919 legislature, will probably make an appeal to the State Supreme court in an effort to have the decision reversed.

Judge Stevens in his opinion declared that the statute "does not deprive the relator of his right to due process of law. The findings of the real estate brokers' board stands on the same basis before the court as do the findings of the Industrial commission which are reviewed under the provisions of the workmen's compensation act, under the same rules that prevail in actions brought to review the decisions of administrative officers and bodies," he said.

"The act is not void because it is discriminatory in that it exempts banks and trust companies from its provisions,' the opinion of Judge Stevens states. "These corporations are the most carefully supervised of any that are doing business. All decisions recognize the right of the legislature to exempt such distinct classes from the operation of such a law as that here under consideration."

The circuit court decision was given in deciding the case brought by Richard Lehman when his license was revoked by the real estate board.

JACK JOHNSON OUT OF PRISON

Negro Ex-Champ Freed From Leavenworth; Wife Meets Him

(By the Associated Press)

LEAVENWORTH, Kas.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight pugilistic champion, was released from Leavenworth federal prison here shortly before 10 o'clock Saturday morning after serving 10 months of a year's sentence for violation of the Mann act.

Johnson's sentence read one year but he was given "good time" for not being a troublesome prisoner. A fine of $1,000 was paid yesterday. Lucille Cameron, Johnson's white wife of the former champion, arrived yesterday from Chicago.

Johnson has received many telegrams, one being from a New York promoter containing an offer of $10,000 with a 40 percent option to meet Fred Fulton at Havana, Nov. 15.

Johnson is to speak on "current topics of the day" at a church benefit Saturday night. He says he does not like boxing, but thinks he still is good for two more years at or near the top of the heap and that he intends to take a bungalow in the California valley near the Mexican border and live there.

Would Eliminate Too Many Tag Days

With a view to eliminating innumerable and varied campaigns, tag days and drives, which tax the purses of Madison citizens to the limit, the Association of Commerce is at work upon a plan to centralize the work of obtaining money for charitable and other purposes. A questionnaire sent to the members of the association states that $100,000 has been raised in the city during the past few months. The blank asks: Do you favor tag days, ticket sales, drives, a central campaign? ould you place a limit on the number of drives? What method of raising money for charity do you favor? Other questions are asked concerning supporting agencies without a local board of directors and which do not submit their books for public inspection and audit. Should the public welfare agencies have a certified public accountant audit their books? is one of the questions asked.

ARREST MAY START PROBE

Madison Man Tells Portage Officers of Liquor Ring Here

The arrest of a Madison man in Portage on July 4, charged with selling and having in his possession a large quantity of moonshine, will furnish a host of evidence to be sifted by the grand jury, which it is said will be called here early in October. The young man, a brother of a prominent Madison man, was fined a minimum fine of $100 and costs by Judge A. F. Kellogg in Portage July 5. His name is being withheld.

A vast amount of "inside" information on an alleged liquor ring in the Italian district in Madison was given to Portage officials including Dist. Atty. T. C. Strout on Tuesday by the young man, and Judge Kellogg released with the smallest fine possible because of the fact that he supplied officials with so much information. He was commanded to return to Madison and to get in touch with State Prohibition Officer Parkinson and tell him the same story.

Information, which will enable prohibition officers to lay their hands on a number of stills was given. He told Portage officials of the comparative ease with which liquor can be bought in Greenbush. The grand jury, scheduled to be called in Madison for the special term of U. S. district court the first Tuesday in October, will have a voluminous amount of information with which to proceed in bringing to light the liquor "springs" on the west side.

Evidence, which may bring before the jury a dozen or 20 persons who are at present making moonshine in the Italian section, will be forthcoming, it is said. Three arrests have already been made in that part of the city by federal officers here. Three Italians, together with one colored man, the latter alleged to have had liquor in his possession, are being held to the grand jury now. The colored man told officials that he bought the liquor on the west side.

According to the sheriff at Portage, the Madison man drove up to attend the celebration. In the car was a quantity of moonshipe, which he was distributing for goodly sums. Chief of Police Curry took him into custody. He pleaded guilty before Judge Kellogg. The automobile, which the man is said to have driven to Portage, disappeared. The man denied that he had a car.

SINN FEINERS AND TROOPS FRATERNIZE

Truce, Set for Monday, is Already in Force; De Valera to Parley With George

(By the Associated Press)

BULLETIN.

DUBLIN—Eamonn De Valera issued a manifesto Saturday afternoon urging national unity during the peace negotiations, with "unbending determination to endure all that is still necessary. "With us coupled a warning against undue confidence," in the result.

LONDON—Military patrols were withdrawn from the streets of Dublin Friday evening says a Central News dispatch. Many of the police auxiliaries were walking the streets leisurely, fraternizing with civilians and discussing the prospects of peace in Ireland. The truce between the Sinn Fein and the Crown forces may, therefore, be said to be already begun, although the time for commencing it officially has been set for Monday noon.

It is understood the armistice will be signed by Sir Nevil MacReady and Michael Collins, commander of the Irish Republican army.

Premier Lloyd George will, it was authoritatively stated Saturday afternoon, accept Eamonn DeValera's proposal of Friday and meet the Republican leader to discuss a basis for a formal settlement.

The meeting will probably occur next week.

The only thing remaining is the fixing of the date, which Lloyd George will name in his reply to DeValera's letter.

Concentrate on Peace

The government is subordinating all other problems of state to the question to the Irish peace, and is bending every effort towards preparations for the meeting.

The Irish office stated Saturday afternoon that Eamonn DeValera had issued instructions to his supporters to cease all attacks upon civilians and discontinue military maneuvers of all kinds.

The instructions from Mr. DeValera, the Irish office said, were to prohibit the use of arms, to abstain from interference with public or private property, and to discountenance and prevent action likely to cause disturbance of the peace which might necessitate military interference.

The instructions were effective from noon on Monday.

An air of the greatest optimism this morning pervaded No. 10 Downing st., Premier's official residence and the Irish office, where the belief was voiced that there was every reason to hope the bloodshed in Ireland was nearly at an end.

It is understood the details of the forthcoming conference will be discussed over the week-end at Chequers Court, where Lloyd George is entertaining the premiers of the dominions.

Reports to King George

Earl Midleton, South Irish Unionist leader, reached London Saturday morning and was received in audience by King George. It is understood he reported to the king details of Friday's momentous conference at Dublin at which a truce in Ireland was arranged and steps were taken to bring together DeValera and Lloyd George.

The whole country this morning was seething with talk over peace in Ireland which was the one absorbing topic of conversation.

Midleton, expressed belief on his way to London that the terms of Eamonn De Valera's letter to Lloyd George accepting the suggestion of a conference would be acceptable to the Prime Minister.

Earl Midleton added that he and his colleagues had achieved their object and that further progress toward peace in Ireland was a question to be discussed by Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. De Valera.

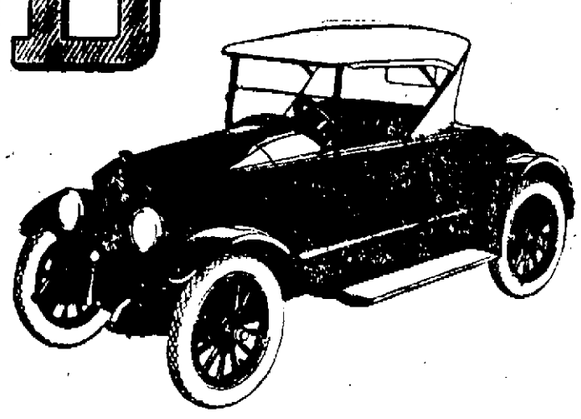

"Sentiment in Ireland," he said, in referring to the public attitude there, "is overwhelming in favor of a settlement and there is fervent hope it will be possible to arrive at a solution that will be permanent."

Regulation of 2,000 State Doctors and Druggists To Be Enforced Next Week

Regulations of doctors and druggists, numbering over 2,000 in Wisconsin, will start under the state law with the opening of next week, W. Stanley Smith, prohibition commissioner said Saturday. Permit blanks are being mailed to each person affected, together with a copy of the new enforcement statute.

Approval of the district attorney will have to be given each application for a permit, with the commissioner vested with authority to make special inquiry in any case, and to refuse a license should the provisions of the statute not all be met.

More than 1,500 physicians selling prescriptions in Wisconsin and hundreds of druggists filling the prescriptions authorized, are technically violating the state law every time they permit liquor to reach a sick patient. For each offense they are subject to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000.

This situation is brought about through the fact that the new law went into effect July 1, without previous notice, with the result that the office of Mr. Smith has been unable to make up permit forms ant communicate with all of those affected.

Despite the fact of their violatin gthe law, none of the physicians or druggists need fear arrest under the state statute until they have had an opporunity to secure permits, Mr. Smith says.

COUNCIL REFUSES TO REPEAL ONE WAY TRAFFIC LAW

Refuses to Act On Petition of Business Men On Square

The city council at its meeting last night refused to repeal the one-way traffic ordinance, granting it a lease of life until Sept. 1. It was argued that it was impossible for business men around the square to so quickly make a just criticism that the ordinance is "hurting business." The opposition to the repeal made itself known in the form of a petition, presented last night, asking that the ordinance remain in effect at least until Sept. 1, in order to give it a chance to prove its merit. Ald. J. H. Behrend declared that he would vote to repeal the law at any moment, because he believes it is more dangerous for pedestrians now than before. He referred to the custom of automobiles passing the blind side of street cars which are discharging passengers. Ald. E. F. Gibbs declared that the police department should handle this problem. Ald. G. J. Fessler said he was in favor of permitting automobiles to pass street cars on the blind side. "It is done in other large cities," he said. "We have a safety zone in which pedestrians can stand while getting on or off street cars."

The council, however, adopted the street committee's suggestion and amended the traffic ordinance, making it prohibitive for automobiles to park longer than 15 minutes on the business side of the square between the hours of 8 p. m. and 6 p. m.

The council voted an appropriation of $2,160 to the Park and Pleasure Drive association for improvement of drives outside the city limits. This sum is the balance of a budget appropriation. Licenses to deal in soft drinks were granted to S. P. Ray, 221 S. Baldwin st., Heibel Bottling Co., 615-17 E. Washington ave., and A. D. Coster, 926 Williamson st. Theater licenses were issued to the Grand, Orton and Majestic theaters.

The matetr of placing cork platforms at street intersections for traffic policemen to stand on was referred to the police board. Supt. L. A. Smith, of the water department, reported that the water main fund is exhaused and that future orders for mains must carry with them an appropriation. The report of the superior court clerk shows $227.75 collected during June in costs and fees in city cases. E. F. Bunn, city auditor, reported a balance of $865,-554.57 on hand July 1. The 1920 delinquent personal property tax roll, amounting to $6,806.81, was turned over to the city auditor for collection and he was given power to use legal proceedings to secure the money.

The fire and water committee was instructed to buy 1,000 feet of fire hose to replace about 350 feet destroyed by university students during the recent Cap Night activities. The city was assured by Dean S. H. Goodnight and H. J. Thorkelson, former business manager, that the university would reimburse the city when funds were available this fall.

The Madison Street Railways Co. was instructed to remove the rails on Baldwin st., from Williamson to Main in a resolution introduced by Ald. W. F. Mautz. The matter was referred to the street committe. Ald. Mautz declared the cars do not use these rails and the street is in a dangerous condition. If the rails are removed the city can repair the street.

A motion was passed to compel the residents living east of the Yahara river to remove all willow trees and brush within ten days. Failure to do so will result in the street superintendent doing the work and charging it on the tax roll. It is claimed that the district is a breeding ground for mosquitoes which are a nuisance in Tenney park. The council passed Ald. D. C. Sullivan's resolution to place in the 1922 budget an appropriation of $12,-900 for the construction of a concrete bridge over the Yahara river on Johnson st. A resolution, appropriating $200 for aid in the city clerk's office during the illness of City Clerk O. S. Norsman, was passed. Ald. R. F. Elver was instructed to have an arc light installed at Fox and Commonwealth ave. The council granted the use of the Fair Oaks town hall to St. Bernard's congregation for school purposes.

The Week At Washington

By T. L. B.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The leaders of the Republican party in the Senate and the House are very worried over the failure of the Administration to put over any constructive program. There can be little doubt of this in the mind of anyone who has been about the city during the past few weeks. It is apparent in ways which are a bit indefinite to be sure but the atmosphere of the Capitol is surcharged with the concern of the old guard for the party's welfare.

On just two issues has the President put his oar in to any degree. The first was on the issue raised by the Borah amendment for the disarmament conference, in this instance the President worked quietly calling members to the White House for conferences and a glimpse of the patronage still undisturbed. Everyone knows now that the President was beaten on this question by the strong pressure that was brought to bear upon the Congress by the people over the country through the League of Women Voters, the Churches and the Womens Committee for World Disarmament. When he saw that the Borah amendment was going through in spite of his efforts to defeat it he then sent a letter to Mondell in which he expressed his gratification that Congress had acted upon this vital question.

The second attempt of the Executive to shape legislation was in the matter of the funding of the foreign debt. In a letter to Penrose accompanied by a bill he stated the urgent need for hasty action by the Congress and Penrose responded by introducing the measure, stating at the time that it would be considered by the Finance Committee of which he is chairman and reported out and pressed for passage at an early date. This bill with the administration's approval was taken up by the committee within a few days of its introduction and hearings were had for one day. At that hearing Andrew Mellon, the secretary of the Treasury, appeared to support the measure. The opposition developed so strong in the Committee, however, and in the cloak room too, that the hearings were adjourned subject to the call of the Chairman. The most reliable information obtainable on the bill now is that it will be laid over until fall.

These two retreats by the Republican leaders are not so significant in themselves but they do indicate that something is wrong with the machine. They indicate too that there is a lack of directive force and program which to the old stagers in the political game is as significant as can be of the lack of ability to cope with the problems which confront the nation.

The defeat of the Lodge concurrent resolution for an adjournment of the Senate for three weeks while the House worked on the tariff bill seems inconsequential on the surface but it is just another pointer to the lack of cohesion and workability of the majority in the Senate. The old guard had decided that an adjournment of the Senate would be a good move on their part because it would give Senators a chance to get home and fix up the political fences. Senator Lodge was advised before hand that he would have opposition from the Agricultural Block and that if he attempted to force the issue the failure of the Administration to grapple with the big problems would be emphasized on the floor of the the Senate. This warning did not receive any serious consideration from the Massachusetts senator and he introduced the resolution on Tuesday. After a hot debate the adjournment was defeated by a vote of twenty-four to twenty-eight. The administration papers pointed out the fact that four Democrats voted for the resolution and sixteen Republicans against it and that therefore it could not be considered a party split but nevertheless it stands in the record that the leader of the party in power in the senate could not adjourn the Senate and this too after a hot debate in which Republicans severely castigated their own administration for its lack of acccomplishment. Shades of Aldrich! If they were about the Senate on last Tuesday they must have left the Chamber in disgust to have seen his successor defeated on a resolution to adjourn the Senate and with a Republican majority of twenty-two at that!

This administration is more like a brand new twin six Packard with the ignition wires cut than anything else I can think of. It looks fine, there is plenty of gas in the tank, the horn blows, and the lights work but the darned thing won't go, when the boss steps on the starter.

Gov. Blaine was studying the university an dnormal school appropriation bills today, going over the features of the two big finance measures totalling nearly $14,000,000 for the biennium, with representatives of both institutions and J. B. Borden, secretary of the state board of public affairs. The governor expects to have compl ted his consideration of the two measures by Monday when he will make up his mind definitely whether or not to call back the legislature for the purpose of asking them to pass a tax measure. It is not believed that either f the two educational bills will receive the executive's approval, since neither represenas a radical change from the appropriations of two years ago when increased enrollment is considered. Sen. R. J: Nye, chairman of the finance committee, has not been called in by Gov. Blaine at any time to give advice on the finance bills.

BANDITS SCATTER STOLEN MONEY TO KIDDIES IN STREET

Fling Silver to Hold Up Pursuit of Officers in Automobile

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO—Automobile bandits entered the clearing state bank here Saturday, held up the bank officials and escaped with $15,000. In their haste, they overlooked another $15,000.

Three bandits entered the bank and ordered three bank employes and thre mustomers to line up. The six victims then were ushered into the bank vault. Word was received by police that two of the robbers had been captured at Lemont, Ill., and part of the loot recovered. The bandits were traced to Lemont by police. When the officers arrived at Lemont they had to slacken speed, the bandits had scattered about $200 in silver along the street and the roadway was filled with children picking up the money.

Blaine Signs Radical Educational Bill

Radical changes in the compulsory part time education laws of the state will go into effect with the opening of the school year in September, following signature Saturday by Gov. Blaine of the Dahl bill completely reorganizing the present laws. The measure as it affects every employer of child labor, and even vocational and high schools of the state, provides that children up to 16 years of age, unless they have completed the equivalent of a high school course, must attend school half time during the day. The old law requihed but eight hours per week. Further change in the age requirement raises the limit from 17 to 18 years, during which the child must be given at least eight hours a week instruction. Previous bills signed by the governor raise the compulsory full-time age limit to 16 from 14, while the present law will increase the part time limit from 17 to 18.

In Prison 37 Years for Murder; To Ask Pardon

Thirty-seven years ago, Michael J. Harris, then a lad of 20, feasted his mind with Nick Carter blood and thunder stories. It passed away the long winter evenings for him. His sense becam duped. He conceived the idea of killing an old couple and getting their money. He hid in the barn and when the old man entered he cleaved his brain with an axe. The blood scared him. He ran away but was caught and sent to prison.

Today Michael Harris, the man, now 57 years old, is asking Gov. Blaine for a pardon. He will be represented by Senator Burke at the hearing the first Tuesday in August.

Even after hope seemed gone, the lovers of astronomy remained on the hill and chatted. Many questions were forth coming.

Such deduction shall be computed on the per centum basis.

4. In the event the fixed annual assessment and the appropriation made by subsection (2) of section 20.53 of the statutes shall not equal the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, the commissioner of banking may increase the assessment in an amount not exceeding ten per centum of the fixed annual assessment for each bank.

5. Whenever, in the judgment of the commissioner of banking, the condition or conduct of any bank renders it necessary or expedient to make an extra examination or to devote any extraordinary attention to its affairs, the commissioner of banking shall have the authority to make any and all necessary extra examinations and to devote any necessary attention to the conduct of its affairs; and such bank shall pay for each additional examination beyond two in one year the actual cost of such extra examination. In computing the costs, ten dollars per day shall be charged for the time of one examiner and seven dollars and fifty cents for each additional examiner. Whenever the commissioner of banking shall make a special examination of any bank at the request of the directors or stockholders, the expense thereof shall be paid by the bank.

STOUGHTON—The remains of Ed. Baumgardner arrived last evening from McLean, Ill.; and were taken in charge by the Masonic fraternity and the date of the funeral will be announced today. Robert Halley, worthy master, said yesterday that no arrangements could be made for the obsequies until the family came rom Illinois. Interment will be made at Riverside. Mr. Baumgardner was overcome by heat, which resulted in his death on Thursday afternoon. He was located at Stoughton a number of years then went to Montana. While at Stoughton he was conductor of an orchestra.

The Mutual Chantauqua has been giving an interesting program during the week at the West Side park, and it has been well patronized.

August Kreutzel and son of La Farge were in Stoughton yesterday after motor trucks. T. A. Walton came down from Madison ofter another truck.

There was a large turnout o soldiers to the funeral of Edgar Greenwood, Edgerton, on Thursday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Stillman at the German Lutheran church in that city, the escort being made up of former comrades in Franc. A band played the funeral march and the honors were given at the grave by members of the Edgerton post of the American Legion. Aaron Viken and William Serstad of Stoughton were two of he pall bearers. In attendance from this city were the sister, Mrs. A. S. Thompson and husband, Mrs. John Gilbertson of Rutland, and Mrs. Albert Gilderhaus, here from Minnesota on a visit.

Bogs coming down the river are accumulating at the foot bridge on Jefferson st., and the city must soon employ some one to work them down stream or the bridge will be tipping over. The level of Lake Kegonsa is high at present, because of the wc ds and the bogs up river. There has been no exceptional rain fall to raise the lake level.

Death Calls Lars Dahlin.

Lars Dahlin died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed. Quare, north of the city. He was 65 years old and formerly lived at Edgerton, where the funeral will be held today.

Few Hails.

H. A. Hulsether, who insures against tobacco loss by hail, said yesterday that only a few farmers had notified him that hail had fallen on the field and done damage. The wind was strong in some localities during the storm Thursday. Hail on the late planted would mean nothing, as the leaves would be only sand leaves, of little value, except after being medicated for the trade.

A good rain fell in Vernon county on Monday. Some 1920 goods have been bought at Colfax and in Chippewa county. Prospects are encouraging for a good yield of 1921 leaf. Shedding may begin in some instances by Aug. 15.

Damage estimated at over $25,000 was done last week when a sand storm hit the Connecticut valley, burying many acres of Sungrown tobacco and tearing away large portions of the cloth covering Shadegrown. At one plantation the loss was as high as $10,000. Sand storms up until last week were unheard of in New England. As a result of the storm many acres of tobacco had to be transplanted for the second time.

For the first time in many months the tobacco market situation in the Miami Valley of Ohio was given promise of improvement, says the Tobacco Journal. The fact that the export trade is picking up guarantees to the farmer that his old tobaccos and low grade will now be disposed of after long weeks of profitless possession. Buyers are out again visiting the different sections of the country in search of choice crops, but the price they offer now does not conform with the great wave of hope that is abounding in every branch of the industry. Growers say that, all other things being equal in those profitless times, the tobacco crop is as profitable as any other crop they can raise, and a great many of the irreconsilables are making ready to raise again and are only awaiting the plants.

GO TO CHURCH

THERE ARE FOUR ACTS TO A CHURCH SERVICE

Preaching - Praying - Singing - Giviving

The PREACHING is the preacher's part.

THE SINGING,
THE PRAYING,
THE GIVING
is the congregation's part.

If you pray, you will enjoy the preaching.

If there is joy in your heart, you will express that joy in singing and in giving.

If you give, you will be the richer thereby.

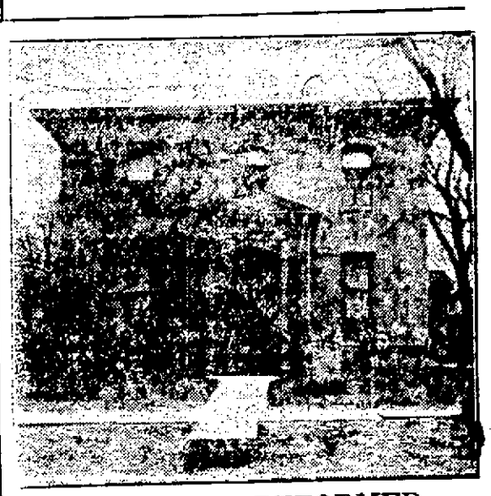

Remember these things when you go to church tomorrow.

If you go only from a sense of duty, you will derive little if any benefit from the services, then you will have wasted your time and God's time.

JONES FAMILY IN REUNION AT FENNIMORE

MADISON people attended the annual Jones family reunion recently held at Fennimore. It has been held on the last Wednesday of every June since 1901. The original family consisted of four brothers and one sister, emigrating from Llandsanan, North Wales, to Wisconsin in 1848. They settled in one of the pretty valleys of Iowa county near Barneveld, as pioneers in the building of our state. Though none of the family are there today, their influence has been such that the neighborhood still bears the name of Jones valley.

The present membership of the family has reached 198, scattered through all parts of the United States. The only member of the original group living and present at the reunion is Mrs. Hannah Jones, mother of Mrs. William Roach, Fennimore.

Forty-one of the family gathered in Fennimore at the home of William Roach. The day was most pleasantly spent in visiting, reminiscenses and singing Welsh songs, "Ar hyd y nos," being the favorite.

The families present were: Mrs. Hannah Jones and Byron Jones of Barneveld; Harvey Jones, Madison; Harvey Jones, Dodgeville; Paul Jones, Stockton, Ill.; Maynard Williams, Barneveld; Mrs. Annie Williams, Hillside; Mrs. Margaret R. Williams, Barneveld; Ernest Wiedenbeck, Madison; Ted Theobald, Barneveld; Esther Searles, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Hugh H. Hughes, Baraboo; Mrs. C. E. Tust, Baraboo; Mrs. Ruth Lampop, Barneveld; Miss Lizzie P. Jones, Barneveld; Dorothy Jones, Madison; Miss Lulu Roberts, Mazomanie; Frances Ostenberg, Barneveld; the William Roach family.

Byron Jones succeeded William Roach as president and Lizzie P. Jones continues as secretary. The reunion will be held at Monona park, Madison, next June. Interesting letters from absent members were read: Enos Lloyd Jones, Orrin Lloyd Jones, Seth Jones, Alfred Davis and Esther Campbell.

What Would You Call The Fuller? Name Wanted

The managers of the Fuller theater are in the market for a new name for the playhouse. The theater building is being rebuilt and modernized and the maagers feel that a new name, in keeping with the new building, should be selected. Madison theatergoers, who have a name which they believe appropriate, are asked to inform Dr. W. G. Beecroft. The name Parkway has been tentatively chosen, but it is not entirely satisfactory.

At The Theaters

AT THE MAJESTIC

Mae Murray, famous Paramount star and dancer, has been provided with a picture story of great dramatic power which was especially written for her by Clara Beranger. It is "The Gilded Lily," and it will be the feature attraction at the Majestic theatre for one week, beginning tomorrow. Robert Z. Leonard, husband of the star, made the production. The story fits Miss Murray like a glove and presents her in the role in which she first became famous—a dancer. All of the scenes are laid in New York. Lily Drake, dancer of the Club Royale, is the type of girl that is all sham and rouge on the exterior, but real and true when the tarnish and tinsel are off. The two leading roles are played by Lowell Sherman, as the New York man-about-town, and Jason Robards, as the country boy. Others in the cast include Thurlow Bergen, Leonora Ottinger and Mrs. Pauline Dempsey. Tom Moore in "Made in Heaven" will be shown last times today.

AT THE STRAND

Katharine Newlin Burt's famous story of the frozen north, "Snowblind", is being shown at the Strand Theatre for the last times today. "Snowblind" is a story of first love in the wilderness which leads to the regeneration of a man whose entire life has been spent in evading the law. How the fugitive, who previously had recognized no authority but that of his own strength, is made to realize the power of a great love, makes a beautiful and stirring story. The added attractions are a Pathe Review and a one reel Star comedy "Meet My Husband". Bebe Daniels and Walter Hiers in "Two Weeks With Pay" will be played at the Strand for three days starting Sunday. There will also be shown a Century Comedy, "Playmates".

AT THE GRAND.

Emerson Hough's novel, "The Sagebrusher," has been screened and will be shown at the Grand three days starting tomorrow. The production is said to have been highly eulogized by the critics as one of the outstanding film productions of the year. One of the tremendous scenes described is a flood which sweeps everything before it. One of the many happy sidelights is said to be the rescuing of a kitten struggling in the raging waters. A dog leaps from a passing log and brings the kitten to safety. A refined girl is persuaded by her friend to go west in response to an advertisement that states a western rancher desires a housekeeper, object, matrimony. When she arrives the girl is blind, having lost her sight on the trip. So she does not see the rancher in all his ugliness. He tenderly cares for her in his shack and although he feels that he is not worthy of her, he decides to marry her in order to protect her. The young doctor arrives in time to witness the wedding and the big-hearted rancher persuades the young doctor to kiss her after the ceremony in place of the groom. The blind girl of course thinks her husband kisses her and wonders for weeks why he evades her afterward. When a dam breaks and lets loose the flood of water through the valley, one of the most outstanding feats of heroism was performed by the rancher as he made the great sacrifice.

DANCE AT MAJESTIC.

An unusual prologue in which only local talent will be used is being arranged by Manager St. Pierre of the Majestic theater for "The Gilded Lily," a Paramount picture featuring Mae Murray. In the picture Miss Murray introduces several beautiful dances. In order to have the atmosphere of the picture seven Madison girls under Prof. Kehl's training, will introduce a ballet. Owing to her features being similar to Miss Murray's, Miss Doris MacPherson was selected for the principle dance, and will impersonate Mae Murray in the prologue.

Billy Whiskers

By Frances Montgomery

The little boy kid had a black face, throat, legs and tail, with a white body and sides which resembled a white satin coat, while the little girl had a white face, throat, legs and tail, with a black body and sides, resembling a black satin coat.

"Really," said the old cow, "it is most peculiar, and I never saw the like before."

'I am tired of keeping still," baad the little black-faced goat, and with that he jumped out of his bed on the pile of straw and began to frisk around, switch his tail and kick up as though he were dancing the Fisher's Hornpipe.

He seemed to be having too much fun for the little girl goat to remain in bed, so she too jumped up, and soon they were making merry together, while their admiring grandparents looked on with smiles of pride and satisfaction.

You see young animals are much better able to take care of themselves than are children at the same age, and although these little goats were only a few days old, they could run and jump as well as a child of two years.

"Kids," bleated Billy, "how would you like to take a walk down to the peppermint bed with grandfather?"

"Father, don't you stuff those children with peppermint and lettuce, for they are too young for anything but milk," bleated their mother in alarm, just as any human mother would have given instructions about her babies to an overindulgent grandfather, cautioning him about giving them too much candy.

Of course Billy promised to give them only a nibble, and the three walked off while the others put their heads together and tried to think of two good names for the twins.

Nannie wanted the little boy named after his grandfather, but Billy Junior objected on the ground that there was already a Billy Junior in himself, and it would be confusing to have so many Billies in one family.

Their mother wanted him named after their father, but for the same reason she could not have her wish. Then she suggested Nannie as a name for the little girl, but this was objected to as there were so many goats named Nanny, besides if she were given this name they would call the grandmother "Old Nannie" and the little one "Young Nannie," and that would not be a respectful way to speak of Nannie Senior.

(And so the problem of names was a very grave one and it looked as if the little kids would never have any names.)

If a man makes a specialty of painting towns red he cannot hope to remain in the pink of condition.

A. of C. Asks Aid For Better Highways

The Madison Association of Commerce has sent letters to F. J. Zoelle, local representative of the Northwestern road, J. A. MacDonald, Milwaukee road, E. N. Warner, Park and Pleasure association, Mayor I. M. Kittleson, and A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, in regards to the approaches to Madison. In many cases the railroad crossings are in very poor condition and in need of repair. The Brittingham park drive to South Madison is in very poor condition and should be attended to immediately, acording to association officers.

Lakeside street is in need of repair probably more than any other approach to the city, it is pointed out. It is a dirt road, poorly graded, and has many ruts and bumps that make auto driving anything but comfortable. A. R. Hirst, in a reply to Mr. Mowry's letter, stated that this road has always ben a thorn in the side of the highway commission. However, because South Madison is not even an incorporated village it is not possible for the state to appropriate funds toward the repair of the road. One way it can be done though, according to Mr. Hirst, is to have the Dane county highway commission ask for a reasonable appropriation for the county roads and this could be expended on the Lakeside road as it is classed as county highway.

COULD NOT KEEP HOUSE

Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Pitts of Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y.—"My trouble was a weak back and I could not walk two blocks without being tired out. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Now I can do my own work and walk with ease. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house. It certainly is my best friend and I could not keep house without it. I have recommended it to many and always shall. You may use this letter if you wish."—Mrs. EDWARD PITTS, 2 High St., Newburgh, N. Y.

It has been said that "backache is an invention of the Evil One to try woman's souls," but even so, it is more often a symptom of a female trouble which sooner or later declares itself. Day after day it drags a woman down and night after night prevents restful sleep. Such woman should follow Mrs. Pitt's advice and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It contains no narcotic or harmful drugs.

The Photoplay of the Novel

By EMERSON HOUGH

Here's Why We Brought This Big Picture to Madison

Reviewer Pronounces This a Wonderful Picture

"WONDERFUL" is the word that accurately describes this screenization of Emerson Hough's great story, and it is an artistic achievement that reflects credit on the entire motion picture industry. A photoplay masterpiece demands many essentials, and this splendid pictures qualifies in every respect.

First it has the appealing story interpreted by a notable cast. Every member of the cast is the perfect type for his or her respective role, and each one is a star. The story contains charming romance, comedy, pathos, and thrills with the "melo" made realistic.

The sequences, replete with thrilling incidents, are skillfully sewed together by a silver thread of sweet sentiment. One marvelous incident shows a kitten struggling in the water after the awe-inspiring flood breaks from the dam and sweeps everything before it. A dog heroically leaps from a log and, seizing the kitten, swims with her to safety. From every angle, a screen masterpiece.

The above review appeared in the MOTION PICTURE NEWS, one of our most dependable trade journals, and we figured the picture must be VERY MUCH WORTH WHILE and we arranged to show it.

U. of W. BEGINS WORK ON STADIUM FOR GRID SEASON

TO ADD 4000 CONCRETE SEATS TO HANDLE FOOTBALL CROWDS

Tear Away Wooden Bleachers to Make Way for Permanent Seats On East Side of Giant Bowl; Temporary Capacity to be 14,000

Construction of 4,000 additional concrete seats at the Camp Randall stadium will be commenced next week in preparation for the unprecedented crowds which are expected to attend University of Wisconsin football games next fall. The athletic department is going ahead with the work on its own funds earned from gate receipts during the past three years, amounting to $40,000, and intends to have 25,000 seats available before the conferance season opens in October. No funds were authorized by the present legislature to carry on the work.

Plans call for initial concrete construction on the opposite side of the giant bowl which will have a capacity of 53,000 when completed at an approximate cost of $500,000. The lower tier of seats, similar to those already constructed on the west side of the field, will be built so as to bring the total number of permanent seats to 11,000. Crowding which has in the past caused confusion at the big games will largely be eliminated through construction of a large retaining wall behind the present concrete section, with the entrance from two rear ends. A section of seats also will be added on this side to complete the lower half of one side of the bowl.

Wooden bleachers on the east side of the field have been torn down to make way for the concrete. Temporary bleachers capable of seating 14,000 people will be set up for the permanent games. The University of Wisconsin is ahead of Ohio and Illinois in construction of its stadium, but with no assurance that the other schools will not outstrip her within the new few years. The legislature has not appropriated any funds to the athletic department to be used at the Camp Randall field since an initial outlay of $20,000 to build the first seats. At the present rate of construction it is believed that the stadium will be completed in 10 years.

NEAT CARD OF RING WORK TO BE HELD HERF

Madison Deaf Mute to Meet Great Lakes Slugger Monday Night

Madison's battling dummy is to step out in fast company Monday night in the windup of the fistic program arranged by Promoter Jack Boyd of the Monona A. C. Roberts is matched to fight Frank Miller, Great Lakes naval training station boxer, in a six round, no decision affair. The dummy is one of the cleanest boxers in this neck of the woods and is in fine shape for his bout.

Kid Monohan, South Madison middleweight, will mix it with Gunner Dann in the semi-windup. They are to weigh in at 152 pounds. The Gunner hails from Chicago and is reported to be a good two-fisted fighter. Eddie Trainor of Madison will take a corner opposite Sammy Singer of Milwaukee. His bout will be preceded by one between his brother, Lew Trainor, and Army Fields, Milwaukee Hebrew. The show will be opened by Andy Hickey and Bill Harrington, both of Madison.

Jack Dempsey Draws Color Line in Next Ring Battle

OMAHA, Neb.—"I will never fight a colored man," Champion Jack Dempsey said during a short stopover here on his way to Salt Lake City to visit his parents.

"There is nothing to this talk of me meeting Jack Johnson. I am confident the public don't want this fight, and while I will govern myself to a large extent according to the public wishes, I can't see my way clear to fight Johnson or any other colored man. I will meet any one that Kearns picks for me. Gibbons, I understand, is a good man, although I never have seen him work. As I have drawn the color line, I am free to say that I think Harry Wills is a great fighter, one who will whip the very best of them. You know as much about Johnson as I do. As for Willard, I'll fight him any time—and lick him, too."

Promoter Tex Rickard announced that he paid $514,325 to the boxers and referees at Boyle's Thirty acres last Saturday. Dempsey and Carpentier received $300,000 and $200,000 respectively. The boxers in the preliminaries received $13,050. Billy Miske and Gene Tunney were the highest said, receiving $2,000 each. Referee Harry Ertle received $1,000 and the other referees, including an alternate, received a total of $275.

State Mat Champ to Meet Eastern Foe Here Tonight

Earl Bailey, former heavyweight champion wrestler of the state of Wisconsin, will grapple with "Rough House" Burns, middleweight champ of the east at the old city league ball park, E. Washington ave. and S. Blount st., tonight at 9 o'clock. Bailey's scissor hold, which he claims to have perfected beyond the power of his prisoner to escape, will be used tonight by the state champion. Bailey boasts of never having lost a match to any man of his class.

Burns, a popular wrestler of the eastern states, has an indisputable record behind him. He claims to weight 178 pounds, but appearances lead one to believe that his poundage is near the 180 mark. The two will meet in a one-fall, fight to the finish match.

SINGLE G SETS SEASON RECORD IN FAST PACES

Racer Seen in Madison Steps 2-Mile Track in World's Fastest Time

NOTE — Single G was one of the attractions at the Dane County Fair last September. He raced against time on the local track and was witnessed by some 40,000 people during his two day's performance here.

CLEVELAND, O.— Pacing the fastest time of the year, Single G., owned by W. B. Barefott, Cambridge City, Ind., defeated a most formidable field of pacers in the free-for-all sweepstakes, feature of the getaway Grand Circuit card at North Randall. His victory came in straight heats.

Ed Allen took the veteran out in front early in each mile, and never was headed. Single G. paced the first mile in 2:01¾ and the second in 2:02¼. The last quarter of the final heat was done in :29.

The time for the two miles not only is the fastest paced but also beats that of the trotters for the season. Single G. was an odd-on favorite. He sold for $200 in a $280 auction pool. Peter Beiler was the only other favorite of the day to win.

Black Burns took the second division of the 2:20 class pace in straight heats. Donzo captured second money by taking the third heat, after Black Burns had been ruled out.

Only three of the original field of eight which started the 2:20 trot, raced in the third heat. The event went to Peter Beiler, which changed hands several days ago for $8,000. For the first time since Union Trotting association rules governed harness horse racing in this circuit, all of today's winners came in straight heats. Lord Busby, winner of the 2:14 class pace, which brought the meeting to a close, was the fourth of the day to capture his event in straight heats. He was an easy winner.

DEMPSEY SURE WAS SHAKEN HARD BY BLOW IN SECOND

Carp's Blow Was Flush On the Jaw, Roundy Says, and 95,000 People Jumped Up and Yelled for a Knockout

Some one asked me the size of New York. I told him when I got to Milwaukee I went around town looking for McDermott, of Oregon, Wis., as I thought they left me off there.

I have been asked the size of the arena. It covered 8 city blocks and would fit just about in the capitol square, maybe a little bigger.

In the $5 seats you needed two pair of opera glasses to see the fight. You could not tell your own brother with a pair of opera glasses from the top of one side to the other.

Now I will settle that argument, that if Dempsey was groggy in the second round or not. Of course Jack says he was not. That is business for him to say that he was not.

Jack Dempsey was shaken up considerably in the second round. The blows were flush on the jaw. Now 95,000 people would not rise in one mass and shout for a knockout if they did not see things that made them shake that arena with yells for a knockout. But before the round was up Dempsey was all clearod out and good as ever. But he was shaken up, believe me.

In Carpentier Mr. Dempsey beat a great little man and he knows it. Of course he is not in Jack's class, but the 170 pounders in this country have got a job on their hands beating this Frenchman.

Of course we all saw an article that Mr. Brisbane had on Dempsey giving him the worst calling down as a slacker that seems out of proportion to me. It was enough to make Jack turn the title over to some foreigner, as some people want it.

Now Dempsey has given over $70,000 to the benefit fund for the soldiers in boxing matches, and he also has considerable funds sunk in Liberty Bonds. His service is always open to the soldiers free of charge in free exhibitions for their benefit.

He had a trial and was found not guilty. The jury was composed of the biggest business men on the coast. Ain't that enough?

The Government made an example out of him or at least tried to, and left a large bunch that are yelling their heads off that were much worse than he. Why don't some of these men get a charge out against him and prove something that the government could not do. It makes me laugh.

He is a man that has proved a gentleman in the ring and out, at least by his conduct and by the great respect he shows for his mother.

He always has given her anything she wants and always goes to see her after every fight to comfort her.

And this is a lot more than some men are doing that are trying to drive the man to ruin.

He has never been mixed up in a crooked match as yet. The American can always know that when Dempsey enters the ring that the match is on the square and that you got to whip Dempsey to get the title, not buy it.

He has won the title and keeps it in the good old U. S. A., where it belongs, under the greatest hardship and difficulties that any man ever fought under in the square arena.

And could a man go out and do such fighting as no other man can do or ever will do as this gladiator can if his mind was not clear?

I will write the fight as I saw it in Monday's paper. I will give it as my eyes saw it.

I received a letter today that I might go back to New York after the football season next fall. But it is rather hard to sleep in the park benches down there in the winter time.

Boyd will give a nice show at Monona park Monday night. It will be mostly local fellows and the prices are cheap. Of course I have been away and am not just posted on the affair but there seems to be at least 1,000 from the west side going to see Leo Trainor make his first start. The Dummy is on the windup. Enough said. He fights all the time. Monohan takes on some tough foe this time and Fields will sure give Trainor the battle of his life. The card looks good for the prices and the house should be at least better than good.

HEILMAN HITS LONGEST HOMER BUT HOSE WIN

Out-bats Bambino With Drive of 610 Feet; Yanks Lose to Chicago Sox

DETROIT, Mich.—Joe Bush held Detroit to four hits and Boston won, 6 to 3. Harry Heilman made the longest home run in the history of the local park in the sixth inning, hitting the ball a distance of 610 feet, according to the groundkeeper's measurements. Babe Ruth's longest hit, which was said to beat all previous known records, was for a distance of 460-odd feet and was made at the Polo grounds this year.

Sox Defeat Yankees

CHICAGO—Richard Kerr won his fourth game of the year from the New York Yankees. Babe Ruth went homerunless and the visitors went almost runless, the final score being 4 to 1. Wee Richard was given scrumptious support by his pals, otherwise the ten swats they garnered off his stuff would have counted more at the pan. Mulligan shone brightly in the defense.

Giants Win Hurlers' Duel

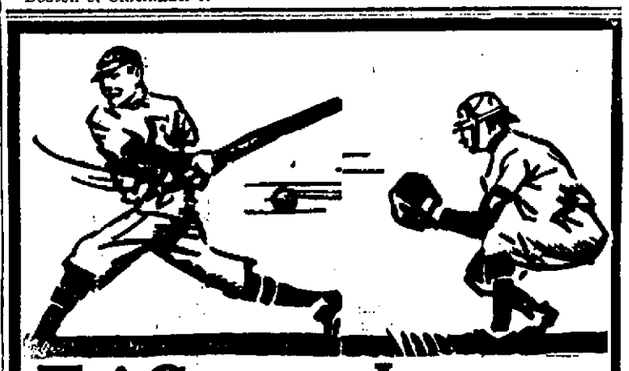

NEW YORK—One of those old time pitching duels, which have become almost obsolete, took place between Grover Alexander and Art Nehf, when the Cubs and Giants met in the first of a series and Alex the Great was downed in the ninth ininng, when an error let in the only run of the game, New York winning, 1 to 0.

Browns, 12; Senators, 2

ST. LOUIS — St. Louis batted Zachary for sixteen hits and twelve runs before he was taken out with one out in the fifth and won from Washington, 12 to 2. Williams hit his sixteenth home run of the season in the sixth inning with two Browns on base. Every St. Louis player made one or more hits.

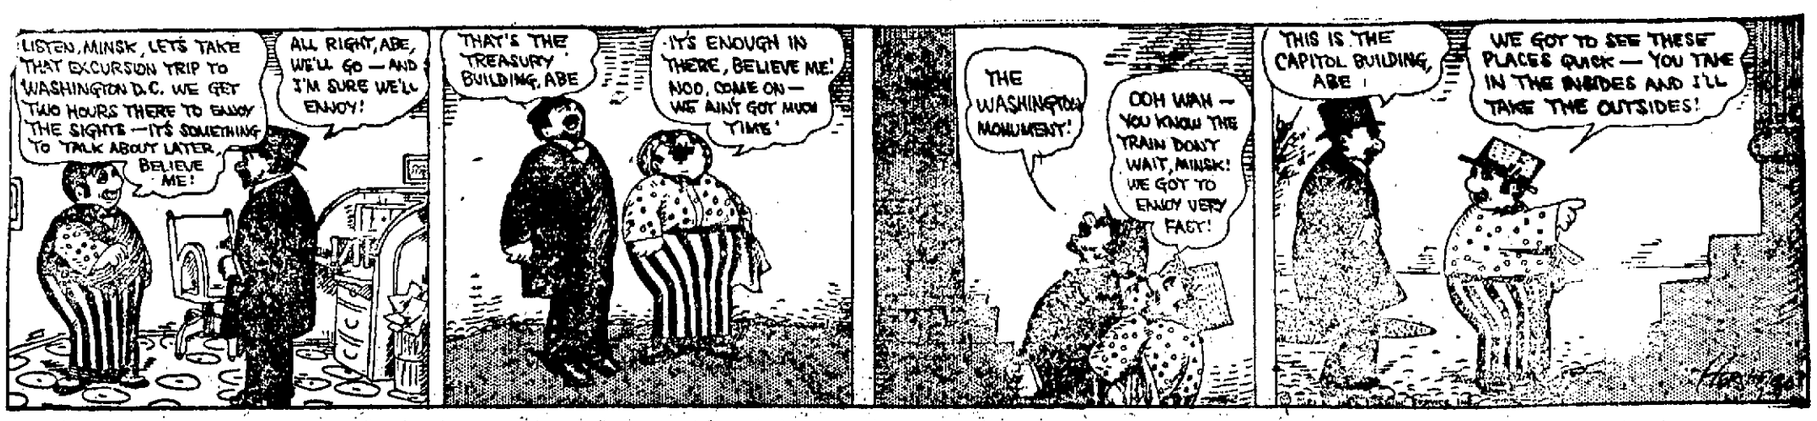

Pirates Win Again

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—Pittsburg defeated Brooklyn 5 to 3, by bunching two hits with Schupp's wildness and Olson's error in the sixth inning.

MARKETS

WHEAT TAKES SLIGHT SLUMP

Bearish Crop Report is Cause of Falling Off at Opening

CHICAGO—Bearish interpretation of the government crop report led to considerable selling of wheat at the opening Saturday options 1 to 1¾c lower as compared with yesterdays close. A rally followed when commission houses supported Sept. and black rust reports from South Manitoba and portions of Saskatchewan checked the movement. Trade was very light.

September opened 1.20¼ to 1.20½, dipped under $1.20 and then rallied to around yesterdays close on reports of overnight export business at the seaboard backed by local professional buying.

The market lacked support toward the close and the finish was at about point of the day. Closing prices were July 1.18½ to 1.18¾; August 1.18⅜; Sept. 1.18¼ to 1.18½; October 1.21. These prices represented net losses of around 3¼ cents.

Corn.

Corn trading was marked by an advance of July to 2c over Sept. The removal of hedges on 350,000 bushels sold late yesterday to Montreal being the factor. The market generally opened about 1c off from yesterday's close with July 60⅞ to 61. Sept. 59⅝ to 60 and December 59⅝ to 60. The movement took July to 62¼ in the first hour and the others advanced in sympathy.

July maintained its spread over September fairly well but the corn market eased off with wheat. At the close July was 60⅝; Sept. 59 to 59⅛ and Dec. 58½ to 58¾.

Oats.

Oats were firm from the start with Sept. starting ⅛c lower to ¼c higher at 38¾ to 38½, steadying at the latter figure.

Provisions.

Provisions showed considerable strength on optimistic trade reviews. Sept. lard went to 10.82 and Sept. ribs to 10.87.

CHICAGO POTATOES.

CHICAGO—Potatoes; receipts 74 cars, market firm; Virginia Irish cobblers 4.25@4.0 a bbl.; Norfolks 3.50@3.75 a bbl.

CHICAGO DAIRY.

Note—No butter or eggs quotations on Saturdays during July and August.

STOCK MARKET IS IRREGULAR

Moderate Strength in Oils and Motors Features Opening

NEW YORK—Stocks were irregular at the opening of Saturday's session. Moderate strength in some of the oils and motors was offset by declines elsewhere. Within the first half hour, however, the market developed pronounced weakness. Mexican Petroleum reacted 2¼ points and declines of 1 to 3 points accompanied the selling of Atlantic Gulf, General Asphalt, Harvester, American Sugar and Sumatra Tobacco.

An eight point break in American Express was the feature among specialties. Another adverse development was a sharp decline of British exchange rates. Demand bills on London were quoted at $3.68, approximating the lowest quotation of the year.

Extreme reactions of one to almost four points were made by prominent oils, motors, steels, equipments and specialties. These were largely retrieved with some substantial gains in the final hour when rails served to stabilize the list. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 300,000 shares.

Good For The Council

Aldermen Unanimously Vote to Make Police Force Yellow Cab Co. to Respect Rights of Citizens.

WE ARE glad to note that official notice has finally been taken of the practices which have been carried on here by the Yellow Cab line.

The manner in which the rights of Madison citizens have been flouted and the lenient attitude with which the police have dealt with these insolent invaders of the past year finally came to a head at the meeting of the common council last night.

The manner in which Madison taxpayers have been jerked into court for minor violations while the driving of these taxi drivers has gone unnoticed by the police; the manner in which Madison citizens are driven from the streets in the vicinity of the depots by these insolent outsiders has finally aroused public sentiment here to a stage where the police and city officials will have to take a stand with the people of Madison or with the Yellow Taxi line.

It might be interesting to learn in just what manner the Yellow Cab line has obtained these special immunities at the hands of the police which they have been enjoying. It might be interesting to know just why the eyes of the police are peeled so keenly for Madison taxpayers who have no tail lights burning while taxi drivers are permitted to sail along at high speed without being molested.

Has the Yellow Cab Co. gotten the same foothold here in Madison that it has in Chicago where it is also immune from official action?

The common council has performed a service in publicly notifying the Yellow Cab Co. that if it wants to do business in this community it will have to respect the rights of citizens of Madison and not act as though Madison taxpayers paid for our streets simply to turn them over to the Yellow Cab Co. for profit.

THE WAR GRAFT

DANTE PIERCE, editor of the Wisconsin Farmer, has the following to say in the current issue on the subject of war graft:

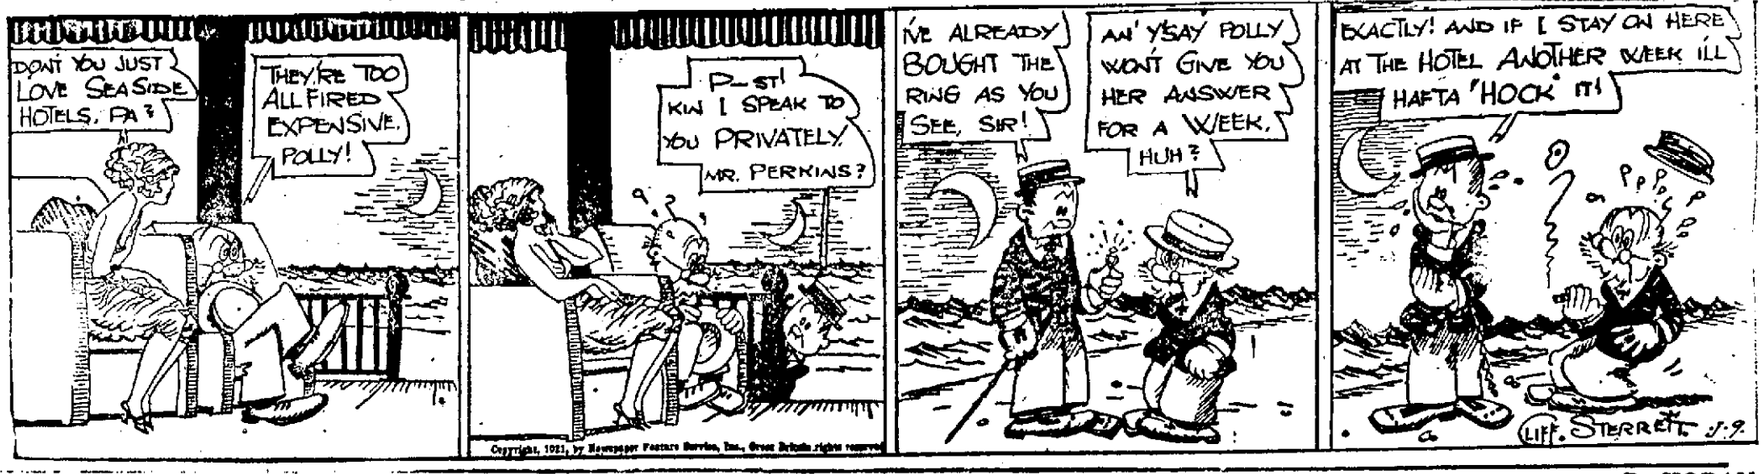

"The recent announcement of Attorney-General Daugherty that he was going to proceed against the big war grafters will, in my opinion, meet with universal approval. More encouraging than anything else in the announcement of this official was his declaration that he was not after the little fellows and that he will throw back any minnows caught and let them start over. It is true that the small grafter as well as the big one deserves punishment but it is so seldom that government officials ever catch anything except small grafters that I feel that the public will approve the announced leniency for the minnows if Attorney-General Daugherty will only capture a few sharks.

"How much was stolen from our government by war contracts during the recent conflict will probably never be known, but optimistic treasury officials have estimated that the hunt for war grafters might result ultimately in the return of two billions of dollars. There was never a time when the taxpayers of the nation had greater need for the relief which the return of this loot would give; and I know of but few possible accomplishments that would redound more to the credit of the administration than a successful search for this stolen money. In addition to recovering the graft on war contracts the attorney-general should carry out his promise that criminal prosecution will be brought against the scoundrels who swindled their own government at a time when the life of the nation was at stake.

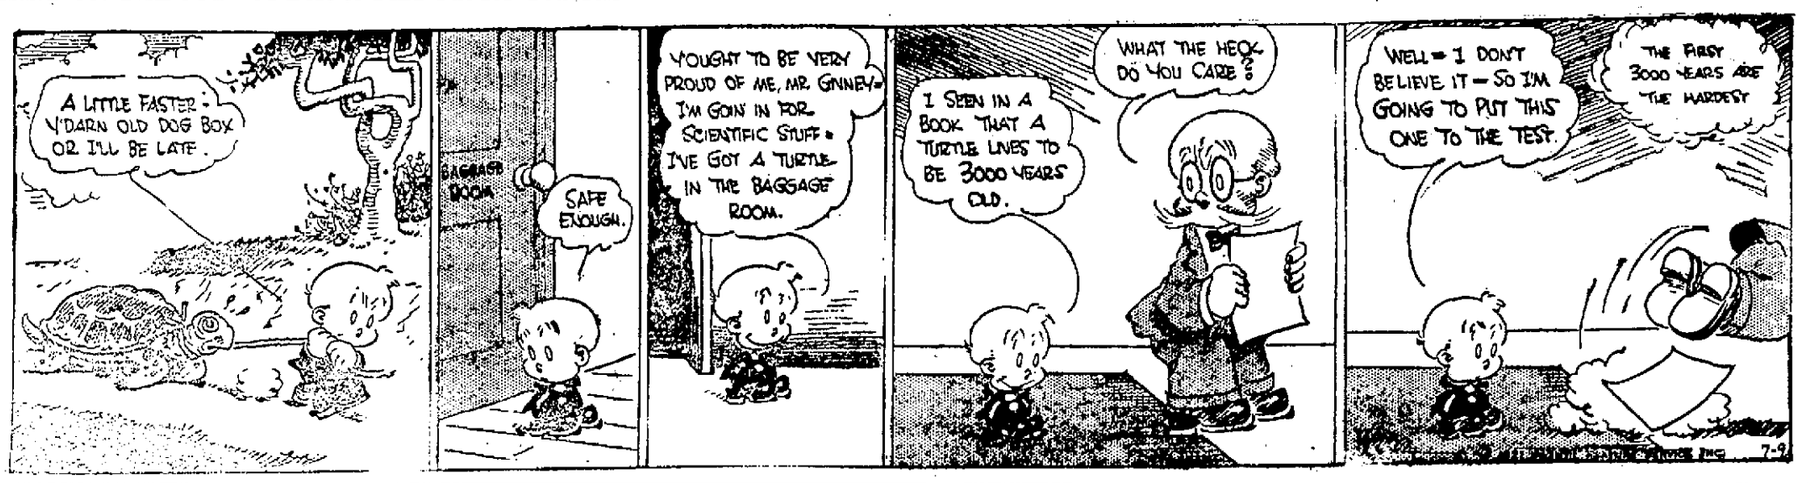

"It is well for the attorney-general to remember, however, that he will be judged by performances rather than by promises. It is not likely that the taxpayers will indulge in any premature rejoicings over his announcement. In recent years about everything and everybody has been investigated by some official body, but the net results have been disappointingly meager. In fact the public has come to look upon the average investigation as a tiresome farce, and the ordinary individual will smile skeptically when he reads that some government official is really going to punish any big grafter or profiteer. Attorney-general Daugherty is much in the position of the boy who cried 'Wolf! Wolf!' when there was no wolf; for though he is not to blame for the failure of others, the public which has been fooled so often that it will respond only when it sees at least one war wolf behind the bars and his stealings returned to the United States treasury.

"But I am sure that the producers of the Middle West will join in hoping that all the big grafters will be uncovered and receive their just punishment. The government has proceeded relentlessly against every individual who evaded the draft, and even conscientious objectors have received but little mercy. But there has been an amazing leniency in the case of those traitors who sold to the government shoddy goods and took advantage of war conditions to charge both the government and the consumers outrageous prices. It is a poor law that does not work with equal efficiency in the case of both the rich and the poor, and it is an unjust government which publishes the names of draft evaders and permits the men who made millions by trickery and graft to hide their names and hold their loot. Attorney-General Daugherty is doing nothing more than his duty in proceeding against the big war grafters, and I trust that for once governmental promises will be carried out to the letter."

THE SCHOLAR IN POLITICS

A reviewer of a book the author of which is Senator Lodge—the "scholar in politics" as the codfish aristocracy of Massachusetts used to say—quotes an extract from one of this man's great essays. He tells us about the reactionary and the progressive way of thinking and ventures the opinion that we can only learn from the past. We shall not quarrel with this, but shall note the way Lodge puts it. He knows that it is venturing on dangerous ground, that

> "to suggest that we can learn from the past is just now to expose one's self not merely to derision but to a shower of names of which "reactionary" is one of the mildest. Yet such are my limitations that I can learn nothing from a future that is non-existent. * * * There remains the past, then, as a teacher—for there is, strictly speaking, no present. As I utter these words the fast-flitting moment has dropped into the abyss of time, and is as far beyond recall as the days of Egypt's predynastic kings, whether you seek your lesson from your own experience or from the recorded history of mankind."

Very well. But it is one thing to "learn from the past" and another thing to live in the past and to attempt to preserve it without change. No one pretends to learn from a future that is "non-existent" and the attempt to postulate this as against one who "learns from the past" is sophistry that does little credit to a "scholar in politics."

If Lodge were asked whether he thought that the present period of dominion by great organizations of the capitalist class should be preserved there is little doubt what the answer would be. He is wedded to this past just as the slavery politicians were wedded to theirs. They based their political creed upon a veneration of the past and sought to live in it and would have all others live in it for all time.

The real progressive is one who learns from the past, who grasps the current tendencies of his time, who seeks to effect the changes which these tendencies forecast and who welcomes those changes. The "scholar in politics" seeks fixity and permanence for the capitalist system of production and exchange and differs little from his prototypes in the "days of Egypt's predynastic kings." He lives in the past as they did and does not even learn from the past, no more than they did. To suggest that one can learn from the past is not, as Lodge contends to "expose one's self to derision." It is when we see "scholars in politics" who do not learn from the past that they are exposed to derision, and the senior senator from Massachusetts is a notable example. —New York Call.

WHEN A BANKER IS A GOOD FELLOW.

Would it have made any difference in Senator La Follette's speech had he been an invited guest at the conference between the president and the group of bankers and financial magnates? Or is the Wisconsin loquacious senator afraid he will lose his state at the next election in case he would neglect a chance to twist the tail of Big Business?

We opine that Big Business is offensive when it disagrees with the digestion of our senator and expresses contrary views to his own but on the other hand Big Business is worthy of applause when it agrees with Senator La Follette, and we are confirmed in our opinion by The Capital Times laudatory remarks about Banker Reynolds to whose remarks on the foreign situation The Capital Times devoted a column editorial, praising him for his sound position.—The Kaukauna Times.

DISCOURTESY TO BRITISH.

Edward J. Ward, formerly of Madison now of the U. S. bureau of education, early in 1920, gave a series of lectures to workers and teachers at the Franklin school, Washington. He asked his hearers each to bring a copy of the Declaration of Independence to his next lecture for reference. And the wife of Major Smith, U. S. A., thought it would be nice for one of the government printing offices to furnish these copies. The head of the printing office at first agreed, but later said that it had been officially decided that it would be unwise to print the Declaration of Independence "because it would be an act of discourtesy to our friends, the British." This seems incredible, but The Nation, May 25, 1921 (p. 729), tells the whole story, and cites the Community Capitol (Mayflower Press) by Congressman M. Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania as authority.

TIME OUT!

He wandered about the grounds, viewing his new surroundings with much inerest.

Finally he approached one of the guards.

"What time is it?" he asked.

The guard glanced up at the clock on top of the main building.

"Eleven-thirty," he said.

"But that clock can't be right," observed the inquirer.

"Certainly it is," said the guard.

The man walked on and soon he met another guard.

"Say, would you mind telling me the time?" he asked.

"Sure," said the guard, looking at the same clock. "It's just past eleven-thirty."

"But that clock isn't right, is it?" pursued the man who wanted to know.

"Why, sure it is," said the guard.

The guest scratched his head reflectively.

"Well, if it's right—what's it doing here?" he demanded.

Last night as the curtain went up on the opening chorus, Lorraine, after giving the prima donna the once over, shied this one at me:

"Does she wear those riding togs so the audience can distinguish her from the 'ponies'?"

"Neigh, neigh," I replied, "it's only a habit she's gotten into lately."—Tom Weatherly.
